- Your Ambassador

Your Ambassador National Proficiency Badges are focused, unique, and sophisticated—and, most important, useful! Whether you bring your network together at a Dinner Party or get versed in Public Policy so you know just how elected officials help change the world, your badge skills will come in handy. Plus, they're full of opportunities for plain old fun—something that can feel hard to make time for when you're busy with the last years of high school.

As an Ambassador, you might think of this chart both as your résumé and a fun souvenir of your adventures in Girl Scouting. On the back you'll find your Ambassador Awards Log, where you can review every award you can earn in your Ambassador years. You can also use this chart to remind you what younger Girl Scouts are doing in their badges—and to decide how you might want to mentor them as they earn awards. It's a big circle and sisterhood: one way every Girl Scout builds the courage, confidence, and character to make the world a better place.
